Those with a flavor that still lingers, sound that echoes in our ears, and those that flood back despite the years that have passed.

The first game you watched with your father, for instance, is it forgettable?
The first store opened, that money hung on the wall because it brings abundance...
Birthdays, graduations, weddings of children, can you forget them?

They are unforgettable!

Because it is memories that are the best way to say “I’m glad that I lived”.
